END-TO-END DELIVERY

TOTAL RISK PERSPECTIVE

Pinkerton takes a Total Risk Perspective to analyze risk. We break down risk into four connected quadrants and examine your threats with a macro and micro, external and internal point of view.

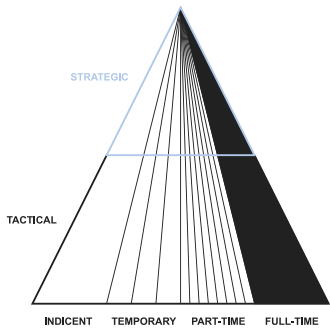

The risk landscape is ever changing, therefore it is essential to have the right perspective when designing and implementing a strategy that considers future risks, as well as current ones.

Focusing on only one component of risk without understanding the connectivity can lead to unintended consequences.

We blend our experience and expertise with applied risk science methodology to gauge your total risk perspective.

At Pinkerton we harmonize our people, technology, and knowledge to provide specialized solutions that address your comprehensive risk management needs.

END-TO-END DELIVERY

At Pinkerton, we provide local access to comprehensive managed services that incorporate common global operations, specialized services, connected resources and ongoing performance management.

These elements are key for a functioning sustainable risk management approach that can withstand the rise and fall of business cycles.

With over 170 years of experience and expertise, we are able to lend our knowledge and Global Vigilance Network to our clients.

A critical component of comprehensive risk management is an end-to-end delivery structure.

We can help navigate your organization through risks in the marketplace by providing continuity between your strategic objectives and the implementation of tactical services.

This allows us to integrate with your company at the appropriate level and provide a full range of support from incident to full time, on demand.
