

Global Security Operations Center (GSOC)

Go beyond fragmented and reactive monitoring, and step into comprehensive risk management with GSOC Fusion Centers

Our innovative approach to convergent, intelligence-led GSOC Fusion Centers is based on our comprehensive approach to risk management, and our experience in designing and implementing the next generation of security operations centers. When you partner with us to deliver your GSOC solution, your organization will be able to set up and scale quickly on a global level, leverage our risk management platform, connect to our network of subject matter experts, and access our intelligence capabilities — allowing you to focus on decision making.

How GSOCs Can Support Your Company

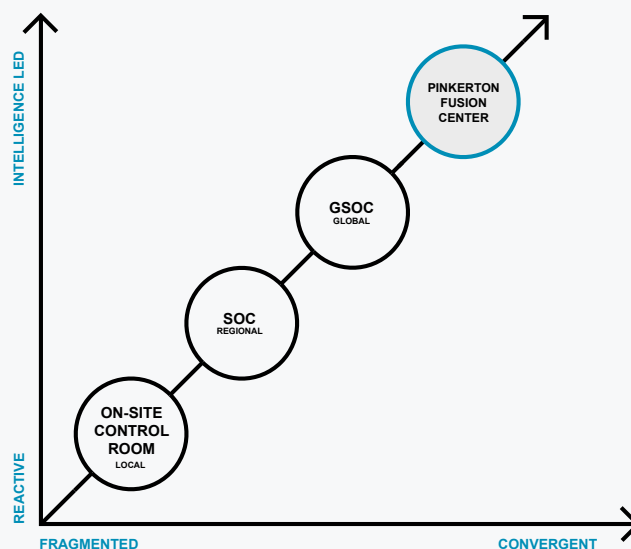

An intelligence-led GSOC will help your organization achieve a range of risk management goals:

- Secure company assets & personnel
- Enhance business continuity & crisis management capabilities
- Facility, event & travel security
- Supply chain security
- Anticipate & adapt to emerging events
- Standardize security policies & procedures
- Improve response to incidents

Proactive Risk Management

More than just operations management and monitoring, GSOC Fusion Centers are intelligence-led units that can help achieve your risk management objectives. GSOCs support a growing number of stakeholders, including:

- Corporate security
- Board of Directors and C-Suite
- Corporate strategy
- Risk & insurance
- HR
- Legal
- IT
- Real estate
- Operations and supply chain
- Business development

How Pinkerton Can Support Your GSOC

Embedded GSOC Program Support

The Pinkerton Dedicated Professionals (PDP) program goes beyond simply staffing a GSOC. These highly qualified professionals are embedded in your company and 100% dedicated to your organization to deliver intelligence, security management, monitoring, investigations, travel risk management, and any other need entrusted to your GSOC. Additionally, PDPs have continuous reach-back to our Intelligence division, our own 24/7 GSOC, and other specialty divisions should you need additional support at any time.

Intelligence as a Service

Accurate, timely intelligence is a key component for GSOCs. We offer a full range of intelligence services to understand emerging threats, fast-changing COVID-19 restrictions, and global trends. We can provide intelligence support through reports (recurrent or as needed), or design a customized intelligence solution that incorporates the following:

- Pinkerton Crime Index
- Pinkerton WARNE
- COVID Intelligence Briefs
- Open Source Intelligence Reports and persistent monitoring
- Analysis & reporting
- Alerting
- High Impact Events subscription
